

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

State Board of Medical Examiners instead of the State Board of Health, which means that the headquarters of the board will be moved from Madison to Ashland. A new Committee of Examiners has been appointed, two of its members being carried over from the former board.

PENNSYLVANIA. A new bill for the registration of nurses has gone into effect. The text of the bill has not yet reached us but its chief points are: raising the registration fee to $10; retaining in the treasury the sum of $5000; the appointment of a training school inspector at a salary of $1400 with mileage to be paid out of the funds of the treasury; the publishing by the board of an accredited list of training schools; the establishment of reciprocity with those states whose requirements are equal to or above those of Pennsylvania.

CORRECTION

On page 1106 of the September issue, line 15 of the article "The History of the First Year of a Cottage Hospital" which reads "Some of the operations," should read "None of the operations."